Defamation — Imputations — Capacity to convey — Strike out

Headnotes Judgment Oth

[2018] 3 NZLR 131

... It should also be noted that in this Court unlike the High Court, the appellants were prepared to concede that some form of public interest defence might now exist in New Zealand. The focus of the argument was therefore more on the boundaries of such a defence and its application to the facts. Is there a general public interest defence to defamation claims in New Zealand and if so, what is its scope? [35] For convenience we again set out the defence as pleaded by Māori TV...
